

4. The Pollinator Polka

Workshopped by pupils from St Antony's RC Primary School, Blackburn
Words and music by Hannah King

They're yellow, black and fuzzy,
With five amazing eyes.
They're busy and they're buzzy,
They soar across the skies.

They make and store their honey,
And fly from shoot to shoot,
And when it's nice and sunny,
They pollinate our fruit!

The worker bees are loyal,
With strong majestic wings.
They swarm about their royal,
Protecting with their stings.

They make and store their honey,
And fly from hedge to hedge,
And when it's nice and sunny,
They pollinate our veg!

They drink up all the nectar,
With pollen on their backs.
Then take it home to share it,
And turn it into wax.

They make and store their honey,
And buzz about for hours,
And when it's nice and sunny,
They pollinate our flowers!
